Eames Tables

Meetings and conferences have become increasingly important in today's world because teamwork and communication are essential for so many tasks. Vitra can also meet these needs with classic designs that have proven their worth over the decades: the Segmented Tables and Contract Tables by Charles and Ray Eames.

While the Segmented Tables are especially suited for large table arrangements in customary conference settings, the Contract Tables provide a selection of practical meeting tables in a variety of different sizes.

In any version – either with a white table top and black plastic edge or in a selection of wood veneers – the Eames Tables always evoke an aura of elegant sophistication.

Vitra offers a multitude of solutions for creating attractive conference spaces that fulfil contemporary requirements: all conference table systems by Vitra are exceptionally long-lasting products made of high-quality materials.
